7 Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seven persons were killed on Arkansas highways this past weekend.

All the victims, except three, were 25 years of age or younger.

The Associated Press weekend highway death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police said Andrew Phillips, 32, of near Dardanelle, was killed Sunday night when he lost control of his pickup truck and hit a bridge abutment on Arkansas 7 near Russellville.

Fred W. Flannery, 21, of near Russellville, a passenger in the truck, was injured.

The other victims were: Ernest W. Jones, 72, of near Fort Smith who died in a Fort Smith hospital Sunday of injuries received Saturday in an WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers says the United Nations without Nationalist China would be ripe for expulsion of 10 other countries and for challenges to the legality of past Security Council actions.

Regardless of the justification, Rogers said, expulsion of Taiwan would be "a very dangerous precedent and will be very, I think, detrimental to the future of the United Nations because I can think of 10 other nations that would be on the list in the future."

Rogers, interviewed Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," did not name the states he considers vulnerable.

"Let me say, too, that if the Republic of China is expelled, I can imagine that nations like Albania and others might claim that all actions taken by the Security Council since its beginning were illegal," Rogers said.

Nationalist China is a member of the Security Council.

The position could be taken, he said, that since its presence

The Biggest Birthday Bash of Modern Times Makes Guests Wonder

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
TEHRAN (AP) — Somewhere between the chicken stuffed with gold leaves and the crepes whipped up by Maxim's chefs, those invited to the biggest birthday bash in modern times may well wonder what the parading and the fireworks are all about.

His Imperial Majesty, the Shah of Iran, is tossing the shindig all this week at the ancient capital of Persepolis, recreated under canvas for the occasion to celebrate the 2,500th anniversary of the founding of the Persian Empire by Cyrus the Great.

Here, for the benefit of all waiting for events to get swinging on Thursday, is a handy, capsule history of that empire.

Six hundred years before the birth of Christ, Cyrus the Great got everything off to a rolling start by molding the Medes and Persians, along with 28 other warring tribes and sects, into a mighty empire that stretched from India to the Danube, from the Black Sea to the Nile's first cataract.

The Achaemenian dynasty, which Cyrus founded, produced a distinguished line of kings. Darius the Great built his palace at Persepolis, at the head of the stairway of 100 vast stone steps. Xerxes, at the head of a vast military-industrial complex that included 1.7 million foot soldiers, 1,200 triremes and 3,000 other vessels, set out to extend Persian rule clear across Europe.

Outnumbered 6 to 1, the Greeks on the plain of Marathon stood their ground and sent a courier off to Sparta for help. He lapped the distance in two days, only to find the Spartans weren't having any war that week for religious reasons.

King Leonidas and 2,300 men died trying to hold the pass at Thermopylae, but the Greek navy with only 387 ships did better at Salamis, whipping the leotards off Xerxes' marines.

For the next 2,000 years, a great wash of history passed over Persia. Alexander the Great came by in 331 B.C. to sack the palaces at Persepolis. Genghis Khan came battling by—so did Tamerlane, and assorted Turks, Islam and Mongol invaders. Marco Polo passed through, along the route of the great silk caravans, and Persia between conquests and bloody insurrections settled down to the cultured life of turning out priceless mosaics, turquoise, opium and lovely gardens.

One of the protesting parents, Mrs. Carolyn Armstrong, said the protest would be in an attempt to get the West Memphis School Board to resign

Dock Workers Defy Order of Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A dispute involving 11 workers may keep Los Angeles area docks closed down until Friday, despite a federal court order temporarily ending a strike of 15,000 West Coast longshoremen.

All 24 ports struck by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union July 1 were operating today except for the side-by-side Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, the largest port in the West.

Arbitrator George Love ruled against the ILWU Saturday in a Los Angeles dispute over whether the Pacific Maritime Association, representing 120 employers, could request 11 experienced men by name to shape up docks for work.

The union appealed and Love took the matter under consideration.

A PMA spokesman in Los Angeles, John MacEvoy, said he doesn't expect a decision before Friday at the earliest and that the docks could be tied up until then.

The 11 men have the job of moving and starting equipment such as forklifts and cranes before work gangs are ordered for loading and unloading ships.

The shippers' group says it takes 24 hours to get cargo-handling going after these specialty workers, known as "steady men," return to work.

The ILWU said the men declined to accept the jobs because they felt available work should be shared equitably among qualified workers.

The union contested the employer request for specific men. The PMA says management has the right to order steady men by name.

Bernard J. Caughlin, general manager of the Port of Los Angeles, said:

"I thought the injunction (sending the men back to work) was issued on the basis that workers would be returning to work under the conditions that prevailed prior to the strike, and PMA was using steady men at that time."

Los Angeles dock activity was restricted to operations on military ships, unaffected by the strike, and two vessels whose owners are not PMA members.

U.S. District Court Judge Spencer Williams of San Francisco signed the temporary order Wednesday night directing longshoremen to return to work immediately under a contract which expired June 30.

His order will remain in effect pending a court hearing Friday on President Nixon's request for a Taft-Hartley injunction providing an 80-day cooling off period while longshore work continues.

White Parents Defy School Court Order

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — About 30 white parents of West Memphis school pupils voted Saturday to keep their youngsters out of school today in defiance of a federal court desegregation order.

The parents also said they will meet at the school district office tonight to protest the order by U.S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Eisele.

The judge had instructed West Memphis to insure a 30 per cent racial minority at all eight elementary schools in the city beginning today.

The revised school zoning plan provides for 400 white pupils to be transferred to Wonder Elementary School and about 145 pupils to be transferred from Weaver School to other schools. Officials said, however, that buses have not been provided for the transfers.

One of the protesting parents, Mrs. Carolyn Armstrong, said the protest would be in an attempt to get the West Memphis School Board to resign

Burglars Get $2,500 From Butane Gas

Burglars broke into four local businesses sometime Friday night and one establishment lost an estimated $2,500.

City Officers said Chester May's Butane Gas Co. on South Walnut Street was entered and the burglars worked the combination to the safe liked they owned it. $2,500 in cash was missing.

They also broke into Davis' Discount Lumber Yard where they took $20 in cash. Franks Fruit Store was entered and $5 in cash was missing and Truck Repair Co. in the same area was entered but nothing was missing.

Local officers said entrance was gained to all the businesses through a window or door.

Also on the weekend two newspaper vending machines were broken into at the East side 7-11 Store and one was broken into at the West side 7-11 Store. The investigation continues.

McGovern Feels Byrd of West Virginia Would Be Confirmed Against Ban of Arms Sales to Greece

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota says the Senate probably would confirm a conservative colleague, West Virginian Robert C. Byrd, should President Nixon nominate him to the Supreme Court.

McGovern did not say which way he would vote, but Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma said he would oppose Byrd as not having "the depth of judgment and legal experience that you would associate with a justice of the nation's highest court."

Harris said Byrd, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, "does not have the exemplary record in civil rights and civil liberties that I would like to see." Harris was interviewed on "Meet the Press" on NBC.

Harris and McGovern, both announced Democratic presidential hopefuls, spoke Sunday, the day after administration sources confirmed Byrd's name was being considered.

McGovern said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that he wants a review of Byrd's qualifications before committing himself but that he would not submit Byrd's name if he were president.

Against Ban of Arms Sales to Greece

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
MADRID (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said today that Congress will be "impairing and impeding" a policy geared to U.S. security if it bans military assistance to Greece, the last and longest stop on the two-week foreign trip he began today.

Agnew told newsmen aboard his plane during the flight from Washington that Greece is a very important member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and Congress should not "make it more difficult for us to provide the proper amount" of military assistance.

He said if Congressmen take such action, "they are in fact impairing and impeding our ability to implement a foreign policy that is geared to the protection of our own country."

Agnew added that "the opinion in the United States that looks with disfavor on the Greek government generally looks with great disfavor on me."

Cong Officer Released by Allies

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam set a North Vietnamese lieutenant free in Cambodia today in a surprise move reciprocating for the release last week of an American sergeant.

"We have no assurance whatever at present that this reciprocal gesture will lead to the release of additional American prisoners," a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said. "That, however, is the goal toward which we are working."

The POW who had been held by the South Vietnamese, was flown by helicopter into the Fish Hook area of Cambodia 100 miles northwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Embassy said he was freed "in response to indications that the enemy would welcome such a release at a given time and place." This indicated that there had been advance communication with the North Vietnamese.

The Americans said the POW was released in "an area under enemy control," the same general area where the Viet Cong released Staff Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., 23, of Warren, Mich., last Friday.

They said the American helicopter crewmen sighted no enemy when they landed the lieutenant and then took off.

Sexton had been a Viet Cong prisoner for 26 months and was allowed to go free somewhere along the Cambodian border. He walked for eight hours to reach the South Vietnamese base camp at Loc Ninh, 70 miles north of Saigon.

Sexton told American interrogators that the Viet Cong did not tell him why he was being freed and did not give him any messages to bring back.

He said that during his captivity, while "constantly moving," he often saw other American prisoners but did not know where he or the others were held. U.S. officers believe it was in Cambodia, some distance from the border.

The U.S. Command announced that Sexton would be flown to the United States Tuesday after being released from an Army hospital.

Fighting continued today in the Cambodian border region around Khek and Fire Base Alpha although enemy shelling tapered off during the night. It was one of the quietest nights since the North Vietnamese launched an offensive there Sept. 26, field reports said.

Clear, Crisp Weather for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clear and crisp early autumn weather covered Arkansas this Columbus Day as the state remained under the influence of a large high centered in Texas.

A cool front was expected to move across Arkansas tonight or early Tuesday reinforcing the cool air mass that has covered the state for several days.

The National Weather Service said the front was dry and therefore would bring no precipitation to the state.

The forecast called for clear through Tuesday with lows in the 40s and 50s and highs in the 70s to mid 80s.

The extended outlook called for a warming trend through Friday with no precipitation expected. By Friday, the Weather Service said, temperatures should range from the 50s at night to the 80s during the day-time.

Highs Sunday ranged from 66 at Harrison to 72 at Little Rock and Texarkana.

Overnight lows included 41 at Fayetteville, 50 at Harrison, 44 at Jonesboro, 42 at Pine Bluff, 46 at Texarkana, 40 at El Dorado, 46 at Memphis, 45 at Little Rock, 38 at Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported during the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. today.

Fights to Legalize Marijuana

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — R. Keith Stroup runs Washington's feeblest lobby. Aim: Legalize marijuana for adults. Legislative results: Zero. So far.

The shaggy-haired, 27-year-old lawyer founded the National Organization to Reform Marijuana Laws last January on money from the Playboy magazine foundation.

He quit smoking the stuff himself, he says, for fear his new activity would attract police attention.

NORML has hired a secretary and four part-time staffers, printed stationery and pamphlets, assembled a prestigious advisory board, attracted 1,400 dues-paying members and run up a $2,000 telephone bill out of its office in the semi-basement of Stroup's home.

But it has not enticed a single congressman or senator to introduce a bill to accomplish NORML's aim. And there remain the matter of 50 state laws which, despite a recent trend to reduce penalties for marijuana smoking, still carry first-offense punishments ranging from a minimum of probation in many states to a maximum of life in prison in Texas.

If NORML has its way, marijuana could be purchased legally by adults—those 18 or over—at state-licensed stores, like liquor stores. Advertising would be prohibited.

"We do not advocate the use of marijuana," Stroup says in his standard pitch. "But we know of no medical, legal or moral justification for sending those to jail who do use it. We believe the present marijuana laws cause more harm to society than the substance they seek to prohibit."

NORML's mailbag is filled with letters from those who agree.

"We here feel the same way," writes a staff member of a Michigan mayor's drug-abuse committee. An Army major says GIs in Vietnam become addicted to heroin because the Army prohibits marijuana smoking. Heroin use is much harder to detect.

A California probation officer says it is wrong for marijuana offenders to carry police records. "I do not feel that an individual should have his life programmed to fail if he is caught with marijuana."

NORML says it also gets requests for information from persons as diverse as an Ohio nun and a publisher of a well-known right-wing magazine. There is a small file of obscene crank letters and about 30 requests for help from persons who have been arrested or sentenced for smoking marijuana.

Group Named to Study Elections

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A five-member committee was named Saturday by the Arkansas Judicial Council to study a proposal to establish the nonpartisan election of the state's Supreme Court, circuit and chancery judges.

The council formed the committee on the motion of Chancellor Lawrence Dawson of Pine Bluff, who has written a proposed bill that would provide for election of judges on a nonpartisan basis. The committee is to report at the council's next annual meeting.

In other action, the council elevated Chancellor Terry Shell of Jonesboro to president and named Circuit Court Judge Harold Simpson of Pocahontas as vice president. Shell had served as vice president.

Named to the council's Executive Committee were Chancellors James Chesnut of Hot Springs and Alex Sanderson of Texarkana, Justice Frank Holt of the Supreme Court and Circuit Court Judges Charles Light of Paragould and Bill Enfield of Bentonville.

him," McGovern said. He said Byrd "has grown in stature" and is "trying to regain some of the earlier limitations in the field of civil rights."

Meanwhile, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Sunday that President Nixon has not offered him one of two vacant Supreme Court seats.

"I have made it clear over the years that I have no interest," Rogers said on CBS. "Face the Nation." The secretary's name has figured in speculation about filling court seats vacated by John M. Harlan and the late Hugo L. Black.

Byrd's name came up a week after Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., withdrew his name from consideration, saying he wanted to avoid a long and divisive Senate battle.

An administration source said Saturday Byrd's name is "at the White House and at the Justice Department. He's one of a number being considered."

Some published reports said Byrd is definitely the President's choice but the administration official said the reports are "way, way too strong."

Byrd, 53, a graduate of the American University Law School, is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee and often sides with the administration and against the majority of Democrats in Senate battles.

was suspended after the military coup in 1967 but the Nixon administration restored it 13 months ago. The House of Representatives has voted to renew the ban unless President Nixon certifies that overriding U.S. security requirements justify military aid, and the Senate Foreign Relations committee is virtually certain to recommend similar Senate action.

Agnew denied that his visit to Turkey today and Tuesday was an effort to balance his later six-day visit to Greece.

"We have a great stake in Turkey," he said, "and my visit is a primary diplomatic assignment, in no way related to my trip to Greece." He added that the U.S. military presence in Turkey is extremely important to American security as well as to NATO.

The vice president was to confer later today in Ankara with Premier Nihat Erim.

Agnew flies to Iran on Wednesday to represent the United States at the celebration of the 2,500th anniversary of the Persian monarchy.

On Oct. 16, he begins his Greek visit, returning to the country of his ancestors, he said today.

Criminal Convictions Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today reversed criminal convictions in two cases because of errors committed in the presentation of evidence in the trial courts.

In one, Robert L. Swanson was convicted in Crittenden County Circuit Court of burglary and was sentenced to 19 years in prison.

In the other, three persons were convicted in Jefferson County Circuit Court of robbery. They were Leona James, who was sentenced to three years, Arthur Byrd, who was sentenced to five years, and Henry Strickland, who was sentenced to seven years.

In Swanson's case, the opinion said that Judge A. S. Harrison erred by permitting the prosecution to introduce evidence connecting Swanson to another crime.

Swanson had asked for a reversal of his conviction on grounds that evidence of another crime should not have been introduced and that the state had failed to try him within two terms of court as required by Arkansas law.

The record shows that Swanson was arrested Aug. 17, 1968, while peeling the safe in the walk-in cooler of the Warehouse Market in West Memphis.

Subsequently, he escaped jail, was arrested in Michigan and eventually was turned over to federal authorities who incarcerated him at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., on April 13, 1969.

At Swanson's request, the Leavenworth authorities advised the state in August of 1969 that Swanson was serving a 10-year sentence for bank burglary. The state then successfully moved to bring Swanson to Arkansas for trial on the burglary charge.

Associate Justice Conley Byrd, who wrote the high court's opinion, said before Swanson could invoke the law requiring trial within two terms of court, it is necessary for the defendant to show that he had made a demand for a trial.

"We find the information forwarded by the Leavenworth officials to be woefully inadequate to constitute a demand for trial," the court said in rejecting this argument by Swanson.

In the trial, Harrison permitted proof that Swanson also had burglarized a supermarket. The trial court allowed the evidence on the theory that it showed criminal intent in the Warehouse case.

Byrd said, however, that the evidence in the Warehouse case alone was sufficient to leave no doubt that Swanson's intent was burglary.

The injustice of permitting the state to prove the other burglary in the Warehouse burglary trial... is demonstrated by the fact that Swanson can still be tried on the other charge and receive yet another penalty even though the jury may have been led by the evidence of the other burglary to increase the sentence in the Warehouse trial," Byrd wrote.

The Jefferson circuit robbery convictions were reversed because Judge Randall L. Williams permitted the state to introduce confessions in which James and Strickland implicated each other and Byrd.

James and Strickland did not testify, but Byrd did and he denied being involved in the crime.

The unanimous Supreme Court opinion by Justice Frank Holt said that permitting the confessions in a joint trial violated the right of each defendant to cross-examine the source of unfavorable testimony and that a confession was not subject to cross-examination when the confessor did not testify.

Court Orders Quick Ruling in Rape Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court Monday directed Circuit Court Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway to promptly rule on a motion for a new trial in the cases of Eugene Lamb and Frankie J. Taylor.

The two men were acquitted in May of a first-degree rape charge in Conway County Circuit Court.

Pros. Atty. Alex G. Streett of Russellville petitioned the Supreme Court on Sept. 20 to direct Roberts to enter a judgment of acquittal and rule on a motion he had made for a new trial.

is not proper now. "Its presence was never appropriate in the first place."

Rogers said press reports about the lineup of U.N. votes on the U.S. aim of retaining Nationalist China while seating Mainland China are 500 pessimistic.

They have been contradicted in private talks with foreign ministers, he said, declining to name the nations involved.

"It's a horse race, but I think we're going to be successful."

Rogers also said "the time has never been more favorable than now" for an Arab-Israeli settlement despite statements from both sides that their mutually exclusive positions are not negotiable.

"In any negotiation, whether it's this or the Berlin talks or even a labor negotiation, both sides say 'We won't make any further concessions,'" said Rogers.

"All I'm saying is that based on our discussions, we think, given the goodwill and good intentions of both nations, that an interim agreement is possible."

Asked if he has been offered nomination to the Supreme Court by President Nixon, Rogers said he has not, and is not interested in the high bench.

Soviet Navy Helps Guinea Leftist

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence sources report a Russian naval force is being used to prop up leftist President Sekou Toure of Guinea and, at the same time, extend Soviet influence on Africa's West Coast.

Three Soviet warships, including a powerful Kashin-class guided-missile frigate, have been moored in the harbor of the Guinean capital of Conakry almost continuously since late August. They left the harbor late last week but are expected back.

Intelligence reports quote Guinean officials as saying the Soviet ships, which have been berthed only one half-mile from the presidential palace, were there to protect President Toure.

Last November, Conakry was attacked by what Guinea claimed were Portuguese-financed mercenaries. A United Nations investigating team later blamed Portuguese soldiers and Guinean rebels. Portugal, whose African colonies have been the target of nationalist guerrilla activity, denied the charges.

Toure, whose Guinean armed forces number only a little more than 5,000 men, appealed for help and U.S. intelligence says the Soviet Union sent naval units to Conakry from the Mediterranean.

Little noted, except by Western intelligence, Soviet warships have been in or near Guinean since last fall.

The virtually constant presence of the frigate, a guided-missile destroyer, a tank-landing ship and a supporting merchant-type tanker at Conakry over the past few weeks indicates to some American analysts that the Russians are trying to extend their influence in that area of West Africa.

To some U.S. officials, this is another piece in an unfolding pattern. Over the past seven years they have watched the Russians broaden and lengthen their naval reach, expanding fleet operations in the Mediterranean, cruising the Indian Ocean on a regular basis, and sailing periodically to Cuba and the Caribbean.

According to some diplomatic sources, Toure has refused a Soviet request to build a naval base at Conakry.

To American intelligence analysts, it seems unlikely that Moscow would want to make the investment needed to build and equip a base there in view of the unstable political climate.

They believe it is more likely that Russia will ask for unrestricted use of the Conakry port Jumpsuit (right) has mid-thigh length overskirt to partially conceal shorts. Shiny chunky patent pumps with higher heels flatter legs and newsboy cap tops it all off.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ENOUGH TO DRIVE A MAN TO DRINK

Dear Helen:

My new wife left me once because she didn't like my drinking. I'm not a heavy drinker, but liquor makes me outspoken. I promised to shape up and she came home. Everything was going fine until this weekend, after she'd been back three days.

First she wrecked the car ($500 bill). I didn't get mad. Friday night she went to a dinner party and left me home. (I burned my leftovers). Later I heard I was invited too, but she hadn't told me.

Saturday, she went shopping, charged a bunch of stuff I can't afford, left the house for me to clean, and gave me a TV dinner. When I acted loving, she said "I'm tired." Still no drink, no temper. (On my part.)

Sunday we went to a party given by her family. I got a new suit, wanting to make a good impression, but my wife didn't even notice it. When we got there she didn't introduce me around. She just started dancing with former boy friends, and there I sat like a lump. I cut in on her once, kissed her on the ear, and she said, "Oh, Harry, don't act dumb."

When I saw her going out in the garden with this big college-type bruiser, I took my first drink. Well, I ended up insulting my mother-in-law.

Now my wife has left me again. This time she swears she won't forgive me. She's beautiful and I love her. Please tell me how I can get her back. — HARRY Don't try! Your wife will never grow up so long as you take the blame for HER faults.

If liquor makes you outspoken, I'd suggest you gulp a good belt and tell her exactly how spoiled and selfish she is. Then: let HER beg YOU back—on your terms, or not at all.

And remember: Time dulls beauty, but it often sharpens a mean disposition. —H.

Dear Helen: My family is staunchly patriarchal, religious and moralistic. Haim's are also, but of another faith. We were drawn together as friends in grade school because we were both immigrants to the United States. We continued to be friends through high school and college. Such wonderful friends—who can really communicate!

Now we are in our mid-twenties, both having attained our Master's Degrees and being settled in excellent careers. With so much intelligence, why then can we not solve our problem? Are we still immature, frightened children?

We are in love. We've known this for almost ten years. Yet Haim has never held my hand. Our rigid up-bringing stands between us like a sword. We are of different, and highly conflicting religions.

In every other area, we feel we are the perfect match. We understand and respect each other, and our love grows so strong that we know we must either part or marry. But our heritage—the unquestioning obedience of child to father with which we were brought up makes us wonder whether we could ever "compromise" on religion, our second "father."

When I tell you, Helen, that I was never allowed to date in my teens, or even go out unless accompanied by an adult member of my family, and that my dress was "old-country" modest until I started buying my own clothes, you may realize that our European indoctrination is not easily put aside, even when our American education shows us there are other ways.

How can we resolve our conflict? —TWO FRINEDS

Dear Friends: At the risk of offending some who believe religious differences are irreconcilable, I say that people who love each other can always come to a workable

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — One of the mournful facts of television is that just about the only entertainment programs seen live on the air today are contests—sports, beauty pageants and awards shows.

Sunday night's "Country Music Awards Show" on NBC was live from Nashville and followed the inflexible pattern of the Oscars and the Emmys in passing out about a dozen awards. With only an hour into which to crowd everything, the presentations and the heartfelt thanks were blessedly brief. They were interludes between the songs sung by the top country music talent.

Although the program came from the Grand Old Opry House in the country music capital, the sound on the program left a lot to be desired. Some of the time it sounded as if the microphones were not working right. When the awards were being announced, they were accompanied by a roaring sound that drowned voices and actually hurt the viewer's ears.

"Bonanza," which preceded it on NBC, happened to be busy with an award, too. Hoss Cartwright permitted himself to be made a judge in the Virginia City Beautiful Baby Contest with predictable trouble from mothers of the contestants.

The family Western lopes along smoothly enough when it is righting wrongs and catching rustlers. A couple of times a year, however, it essays comedy, invariably with Dan Blocker making like a comedian. These are usually pretty heavy-handed, obvious affairs, and Sunday night's hour was no exception.

There is some preliminary evidence that CBS' new, early Sunday night movie, followed by ABC's Sunday night movie, are raising hob with NBC's well-established schedule that night. Particularly affected, according to ratings so far this season, is "The Wonderful World of Disney."

All three networks start the season by using the most powerful of the feature films in the packages they buy from the studios. CBS has been showing such movies as "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?" and "To Sir, With Love," and this Sunday, "The Sand Pebbles." They have been attracting audiences so big that the Disney hour has dropped into the lowest quarter of the ratings list and even ABC's "FBI" has been pushed out of the top 20 list. Both are expected to do better as CBS runs out of big features.

No producer is likely to fool around with a series which has worked well over successive seasons, but "The FBI" format is beginning to look threadbare and tired this season. The infallible Inspector Erskin is still working his way round a circle of kidnappings, bank heists, con men and killers, but one show seems to look very much like the next.

compromise (even though their parents may not agree).

For me, which route you take to the Great Hereafter isn't nearly so important as how you navigate the Here and Now. —H.

Bobcats Show Well in the Second Half

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Last Friday night at Hammons Stadium, the Hope Bobcats took a 19-6 halftime lead into the dressing room and then put together 16 more points to roll over the Crossett Eagles, 29-6, in a TAA conference tilt.

Hope now sports a 4-2 overall record with a 2-2 conference record while Crossett dropped to a 0-4-1 seasonal showing.

Midway into the first quarter, the Bobcats scored the first tally of the night when quarterback Robbie Boyd kept the ball on an option play around left end and sped 49 yards to paydirt with 6:16 showing on the clock. Buddy Ingram kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Hope lead.

No more scoring was done in the first segment, although the Bobcats moved as close as the Eagle 19 yard line before fumbling.

Early in the second period Bobcat linebacker Steve Harris intercepted a Crossett pass at the Eagle 36 yard line with 8:27 left in the half. On second down Boyd found tight end Ricky Hart behind everyone for a 36 yard scoring toss, and although the PAT was blocked, a 13-0 margin.

Attempting a comeback late in the half, Eagle quarterback Mike Hutchins hit Mike Freeland with a 62 yard touchdown pass with only 1:11 left in the half. The kick went wide but Crossett had pulled within seven points, 13-6.

On the third play of the second half after Crossett kicked off, halfback Ray Wheelington followed his blocking up the middle for a 72 yard Touchdown scamper and then caught a two point conversion pass from Boyd for a 21-6 Hope lead with 10:33 left in the third period.

Four plays later, after the kickoff, the Bobcats had the ball again, and after using up time and grounding out the yardage, Hope faced a third down and 21 yards to go at the Eagles 25 yard line with 2:28 left in the third segment.

Boyd rolled out and found Wheelington down the middle for a 25 yard strike and the fourth touchdown of the night for the Cats. Another two point conversion, this time a sweep around right end with David Johnson carrying, put the last two points up for Hope as the final score later showed 29-6.

Although the Bobcats had an abundance of penalties, they made up for it with a good ground attack and some fine passing when they needed it. Everything seemed to work pretty well in the second half after a shaky first half start.

Defensively everything went pretty well, except for the Crossett touchdown. Standouts for the game were Steve Harris, Lynn Norton, Wade Harris, and Rusty Quillen. Steve Harris was named MVP for the first time after recovering from pneumonia.

Tonight the B-Bruins will host Crossett's B-team at Hammons Stadium at 7:30 p.m. The Bruins have played only one game and are presently 0-1.

Many Shocks in Southland Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Southland Conference produced one shock after another Saturday.

For one thing, Arkansas State lost for another UT-Arlington win.

Arkansas State, the 1971 national college football champion, lost its first game in 41 outings, falling 20-14 to Southern Illinois.

UT-Arlington ended a 10-game losing streak with an impressive 19-6 victory over West Texas State.

Louisiana Tech downed Southwestern Louisiana 35-15. McNeese State humiliated Lamar University 36-0, and Abilene Christian defeated Eastern New Mexico 36-0 in other games Saturday.

Friday night, Trinity came from behind to whip Texas Tech 27-24.

Big Shootout Only Local Affair Now

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The nationally televised football game between Arkansas and Texas Saturday will be a lone way of viewing the Southwest conference championship, but it's between two warriors with battle scars in their seasons in the Big 12 rankings.

The-ranked Texas lost 48-27 to Oklahoma Saturday and Arkansas earlier dropped a 21-20 shocker to Tulsa.

So that leaves it strictly a family feud with Arkansas already getting a valuable preview of Texas' wishbone-T in a 19-7 thumping of the Baylor Bears Saturday night.

Baylor Coach Bill Beall tried to surprise Arkansas with the triple option. He put Godfrey White and Matthew Williams in the same backfield.

They hit those two bombs... we got behind... and we had to leave our game plan," said Beall.

Arkansas quarterback Joe Ferguson hit Mike Reppond with bombs of 49 and 39 yards.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said he was surprised Baylor used the wishbone.

"We were not ready for it but I thought we adjusted well," he said. "If we don't get a couple of easy ones (touchdowns) at first, then it is some contest."

Texas is glad it doesn't have to go up against the wishbone this week after what Oklahoma did to the Longhorns with the offense Saturday.

"I think Oklahoma has a super football team," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal. "They have such fantastic speed... such unbelievable speed... We couldn't slow them down."

Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks said you can't win with a system alone.

"A good offensive system helps, but we have pretty good players," he said.

Texas appears a bit more banged up than Arkansas going into the game although Razorback halfback Jon Richardson's status is up in the air because of injury he suffered several weeks ago.

Reserve quarterback Donnie Wigginton has a rib cartilage separation and halfback Don Burris suffered a dislocation of the collarbone against Oklahoma. Linebacker Glenn Gaspard has a sprained ankle.

The status of No. 1 Texas quarterback Eddie Phillips was questionable although he played against Oklahoma after Wigginton left the game. Phillips didn't move with the same quickness he displayed before pulling a hamstring muscle.

Arkansas now holds a 2-0 SWC record and Texas is 1-0.

Texas Tech played perhaps its finest game of the year in downing Texas A&M 28-7. In other games, Texas Christian and Oklahoma State tied 14-14, and the Air Force routed Southern Methodist 30-0.

Red Raider Coach Jim Carlen said: "I thought we played our best overall game of the year, but we still had too many mistakes, especially on penalties."

That's unreal—106 yards in penalties. I believe that might be the most yards any team of mine has been penalized."

Running back Doug McCutchen said of the victory which gives Tech a 1-1 SWC mark: "This is what we've needed. It should help us the rest of the year."

Southern Methodist is at Rice and Texas A&M is at TCU in other SWC clashes Saturday and the Texas-Arkansas confrontation.

Baylor College is at Texas Tech and Houston hosts Villanova on Friday.

Undefeated Redskins Lick Oilers

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I keep my head down and look at the point where I'm kicking until I hear the crowd," Curt Knight commented.

The field goal kicker heard the crowd of 53,041 Washington fans five times Sunday as he booted three-pointers of 15, 36, 13, 17 and 39 yards to lead the undefeated Redskins to a 22-13 triumph over Houston.

"In the past I wasn't consistent on the short kicks," the former soccer-style kicker said, "so I changed. Now I have confidence that I can get the job done and that I really belong out there on the field."

His club-record five field goals were the only points generated by the Washington offense. Defensive end Ron McDole picked off a Charley Johnson pass and carried it back 18 yards for a touchdown that assured the amazing 'Skins their fourth straight victory, a feat they had not achieved at the start of a season since 1943, when they made it to the NFL championship game.

In Sunday's other games, Cleveland beat Pittsburgh 27-17, Detroit edged Green Bay 31-28, Chicago walloped New Orleans 35-14, Los Angeles upset San Francisco 20-13, Baltimore bombed Buffalo 43-0, Oakland topped Denver 27-16, Minnesota muffled Philadelphia 13-0, St. Louis whipped Atlanta 26-9, New England silenced the New York Jets 20-0, Miami turned back Cincinnati 23-13 and Kansas City overhauled San Diego 31-10.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EDT) game, the New York Giants face the Cowboys in Dallas.

"The game was not a thing of beauty," Knight said, referring to Washington's erratic offense. But Coach George Allen called it "a 40-man effort. We took the ball away five times and came up with the big play. You have to win the game and it doesn't make any difference what the score is."

The Browns, taking sole possession of first place in the American Conference's Central Division, got a superlative performance from tight end Milt Morin, who hauled in eight passes for 126 yards and a touchdown against the Steelers.

"I have never felt like I had a better day than today," said Morin. "It's all opportunity. I can catch no passes and feel like I had a good day or I can catch eight and feel like I had a bad day. The most important thing is winning the game."

Bill Nelsen wound up with 236 yards in passing for Cleveland while Terry Bradshaw passed for both Pittsburgh touchdowns.

Greg Landry of the Lions had his best day as a pro, completing 18 of 29 passes for 302 yards and four touchdowns, including two covering 10 and 60 yards to wide receiver Larry Walton.

"Green Bay threw a lot of single coverage at us instead of a zone," Landry reflected. "We couldn't run on them because of their strong defense line, so we passed."

And Walton added with a grin: "It was the first time we have been single covered all year and I know darned well it'll be the last."

Kent Nix, who had won Chicago's hearts with his fourth-quarter heroics earlier this season, had the whole game to perform them this time and met the challenge, completing 15 of 27 passes for 242 yards and two touchdowns against the Saints.

"I guess I was a little nervous. It was a long time between starts," said Nix, who hadn't begun a game since 1968.

The Rams took over the NFC West lead from the defending champion 49ers on a game-winning 64-yard touchdown run by the middle by Larry Smith.

"No gimmicks on that one," said Coach Tommy Prothro, who enjoys coming up with razzle-dazzle plays. It was, he said, "a blackboard play."

Quarterback Dennis Shaw summed up the winless Bills' game against the Colts when he muttered: "We made them look good, we were so bad."

Buffalo fumbled four times, had four passes intercepted and gained a measly 49 yards. Baltimore had little trouble as Don McCauley ran for two touchdowns and Norm Bullock ran for one and caught a 30-yard pass for another.

Ken Stabler, subbing for injured Raiders quarterback Darle Lamonica, climaxed a pair of third-quarter drives by running for one touchdown and passing for another to turn back the Broncos.

"We know our defense will do the job and get the ball back for our offense," Coach Bud Grant said after the Vikings recorded their second successive shutout for the first time in their 11-year history. Dave Osborne's touchdown run and a pair of Fred Cox field goals helped ruin the debut of new Eagles Coach Ed Khayat.

Jim Bakken kicked four field goals and MacArthur Lane and Roy Shivers ran for touchdowns in the Cardinals' victory over the Falcons. Rookie Jim Plunkett fired touchdown strikes to Randy Vataha and Ron Sellers and Jim Nance galloped 50 yards for a touchdown in the Patriots' shutout over the Jets.

The Dolphins' turned costly Bengals' mistakes into a pair of Bob Griese touchdown passes while Len Dawson passed for two scores in the Chiefs' come-from-behind decision over the Chargers.

A-State Is Upset by S. Illinois

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—A combination of costly penalties and turnovers and a tough Southern Illinois defense shut down Arkansas State's offense as the Salukis upset the second-ranked Indians 21-14 here Saturday night.

Thomas Thompson scored twice and teamed with George Loukas to lead Southern Illinois to victory over ASU, which previously had been unbeaten in 22 games.

Big Three Keeps on Rolling

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska, Colorado and Oklahoma, the Big Three of the Big Eight, kept rolling Saturday toward a series of dramatic showdown battles.

Top-rated Nebraska flattened Missouri 36-0, fifth-ranked Colorado got by stubborn Iowa State 24-14 and No. 8 Oklahoma out-Wishboned third-ranked Texas 48-27.

The first shootout for Big Eight honors takes place this Saturday when Colorado visits Oklahoma. On Oct. 30 Colorado is at Nebraska while the defending national champion Cornhuskers play at Oklahoma on Thanksgiving Day.

Elsewhere, second-ranked Michigan turned a pair of Michigan State fumbles into fourth-period touchdowns and downed the Spartans 24-13; Pat Sullivan passed fourth-rated Auburn over upset-minded Southern Mississippi 27-14; Alabama, No. 6, pasted Vanderbilt 42-0; No. 7 Notre Dame blanked Miami of Florida 17-0; ninth-ranked Penn State swamped Army 42-0 and Georgia, No. 10, walloped Mississippi 38-7.

Nebraska riddled Missouri for 603 yards, most ever against the Tigers, with quarterback Jerry Tagge shattering his own total offense mark by passing for 234 yards and running for 85.

Missouri's Al Prothro called Nebraska "a much better football team than they had last year. They've got better balance, more poise."

Iowa State's Johnny Majors called Colorado "a great football team" after his Cyclones succumbed in the fourth period on J.B. Dean's 32-yard field goal, breaking a 14-all tie, and Cliff Branch's eight-yard run.

After Dean's three-pointer Iowa State drove to the Colorado 41 before the Buffs held on fourth-and-one. "The play of the game," Colorado's Eddie Crowder called it. "We are not physical enough to clamp down and hold someone off defensively," he added. "We need interceptions and have to count on big plays."

Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt enforced his 205-yard back of the Week performance of a week ago by ripping Texas for 214 yards on 20 carries and scoring three times in the first half.

The 48 points and 435 rushing yards were the most ever against one of Darrell Royal's Texas teams.

"We couldn't slow them down," Royal lamented. "That was our big problem. You can't compare outstanding teams, but OU has the best team I've seen since I've been here."

Royal arrived on the Texas scene in 1957.

Michigan's Billy Taylor sat out much of the Michigan State game with shoulder problems but still managed to pick up 117 yards, including touchdown runs of 38 and two yards.

The first fourth-quarter fumble by quarterback Frank Kolch halted a Michigan State drive in Michigan territory. Mike Keller recovered for the Wolverines on his own 47 and

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

Taylor scored from two yards out nine plays later.

"You can't make mistakes against a team like Michigan," said State's Duffy Daugherty. "They are the finest team we've played all year."

The Spartans lost to Notre Dame 14-2 a week earlier.

Auburn "certainly didn't play well," according to Coach Shug Jordan after the Tigers defeated Southern Mississippi. He couldn't have been referring to the Sullivan-Terry Beasley duo.

Sullivan completed 23 of 39 passes for 238 yards and Beasley latched onto 11 for 100.

Alabama's Johnny Musso rambled for 113 yards against Vanderbilt, including his 32nd career touchdown, breaking the Southeastern Conference mark he shared with Georgia's Charlie Trippi. Vandys' Bill Pace called Alabama the best team the Commodores have played since he became coach five years ago.

Notre Dame's magnificent defense held Miami to 111 yards and over one 25-minute stretch the count was a scant four yards and no first downs.

"Notre Dame wore us down," said Miami's Fran Curci. "We were 30 pounds too small across the board. We tried to run straight ahead because we knew we couldn't run around Notre Dame. But they are too big and strong. They beat you to death."

The Irish, however, lost quarterback Bill Etter with torn knee ligaments in the second period, ending the senior's football career. "The sad part," said Ara Parseghian, cradling the game ball for Etter, "is that Bill finally was coming into his own after fighting back from migraine headache problems of last year."

Penn State broke a scoreless struggle with Army on a 14-yard pass from John Hufnagel to Scott Skarzynski with eight seconds left in the first half.

The Nittany Lions then exploded for five touchdowns in 11 minutes of the second half, three by Lydell Mitchell, who ran for 161 yards.

The running of Jimmy Poulos and Andy Johnson paced Georgia over Mississippi. The Bulldogs scored four of the first six times they had the ball, including a 39-yard ramble by guard John Jennings, who plucked a fumble out of the air and kept going.

Elsewhere, 19th-ranked Stanford tomahawked No. 11 Washington and Sonny Sixkiller 17-6; No. 12 Arizona State trounced Colorado State 42-0; No. 13 Tennessee edged Georgia Tech 10-7 as Curt Watson scored on a 19-yard run and broke Hall of Famer Beattie Feathers' school career rushing record; winless Clemson shocked No. 14 Duke 3-0 on Eddie Seigler's 39-yard field goal and Ohio State, No. 15, downed Illinois 24-10 without throwing a pass in the first half.

Louisiana State, ranked 16th, hammered Florida 48-7; No. 17 Arkansas bombed Baylor 35-7; Mike Walker threw four touchdowns and led Tulane over No. 18 North Carolina 37-29 and Toledo, No. 20, ebbed the nation's longest winning streak to 28 games, beating Bowling Green 24-7.

Unbeaten Tech Keeps on Rolling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Benny Shepard sprinted 14 yards for a touchdown and Craig Williams kicked the extra point in the closing minutes Saturday night to give unbeaten Arkansas Tech a 31-30 victory over Florence State.

The victory was the fifth without a loss for Tech and the fourth straight defeat for Florence.

In other action Saturday in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, Arkansas AM&N edged Southern University 28-27, Southern State defeated Henderson 20-14, Harding whipped Mississippi College 20-14 and Ouachita rolled over the University of Arkansas at Monticello 20-7.

Tailback Johnny Baker rushed 35 times for 191 yards and scored one touchdown as unbeaten Ouachita defeated UA-Monticello.

Baker increased his conference rushing total to 667 yards as Ouachita started its defense of the AIC championship it won last year. The Tigers are 4-0 and CAM is winless in four games.

Harding scored late in the third quarter and then held off Mississippi College to pick up an intersectional victory.

Johnson Is Disappointed With Bruins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Johnson, coach of the Boston Bruins, gave his club a tongue-lashing after it finished the National Hockey League's exhibition campaign with a dismal 3-6-1 record.

"I've been trying to impress upon them they just can't turn it on and off at will," he said. "It is not a good policy to get into the habit of losing."

"We'll be all right ... nothing to worry about," promised goalie Gerry Cheevers.

Johnson's apprehension was proved right and Cheevers' prediction was proved wrong Sunday night as the Bruins opened their regular season with a 4-1 setback on home ice to the New York Rangers.

In other Sunday games, Chicago edged Detroit 2-1, Buffalo defeated Pittsburgh 2-1, Los Angeles topped Vancouver 4-3, and Toronto and Oakland tied 3-3.

Last season, the Bruins skated to their first division title in 30 years, smashing 37 league and individual records on the way. To the East championship. But they were unceremoniously ousted by eventual champion Montreal in the first round of the Stanley Cup playoffs. Apparently, they haven't gotten over the shock of the upset.

"The whole team didn't play up to par," said a dejected Johnson in the quiet Boston dressing room.

Ranger defenseman Brad Park concurred. "I thought the Bruins were disorganized ... their attack, their style," he said. "But you have to give some credit to us. Maybe we made them play that way."

New York goalie Ed Giacomin took the initial sting out of the Boston attack, stopping 18 shots in the first period. He had 32 saves over-all.

Demonstration at RRV T U.S. Has the Davis Cup for 12 Months

DAVID NEWCOMB and LEN SIKES

David Newcomb and Len Sikes of Pitney-Bowes, Little Rock, demonstrated several machines for the business department at Red River Vocational School recently. Most of these machines pretained to the preparation of outgoing mail. The collator is one of the machines demonstrated, and it is used for putting pamphlets together. The mailing machines they demonstrated were: the folding machine, the addressing machine, and the postage meter. Mr. Newcomb gave the history of postage rates and the history of Pitney-Bowes. Two films were shown about the various machinery the company handles and how the machines operate.

Mr. Newcomb also mentioned that, as a sideline, Pitney-Bowes owns one of the largest credit card companies in the United States and the Monarch Labeling Machine Company.

INTERLEAGUE
Baltimore (NBA) at New

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The United States has the Davis Cup for another 12 months, but the question arose today: What is the big silver tennis bowl actually worth? Bought originally by Dwight Davis from a Boston Jeweler in 1900 for $750, it is now insured for $40,000 and kept in bank vaults.

But one must cross his fingers and plant tongue in cheek to refer to it as the symbol of world tennis supremacy. The world's best players—the pros—are not on stage but in the wings.

Stan Smith, Frank Froehling III and young Erik Van Dillen proved the best of the lot of players available in 1971 and gave the United States a victory over Romania Sunday in the Challenge Round.

Smith, the reigning U.S. Open champion, was America's star, beating Romania's Ilie Nastase on opening day 7-5, 6-3, 6-1 and trouncing Ion Tiriac for the clincher Sunday 8-6, 6-3, 6-0.

kas 136 yards on 29 rushes as the Salukis dominated the Indians. SIU scored all its points in the first half.

The Salukis struck twice in the first quarter, with Thompson darting 10 yards for one touchdown and then sprinting 35 yards two minutes later for another after a bad snap on a punt gave SIU the ball on the Indians' 35.

The Indians bounced back in the first quarter on a 34-yard pass from James Hamilton to Steve Burks, but the Salukis went ahead 21-7 with two seconds left before halftime when Loukas plunged a yard to cap a 49-yard drive.

The Indians scored in the fourth quarter on an 11-yard pass from Hamilton to Steve Lockhart. They had one more opportunity with two minutes left, but Hamilton suffered an interception in Saluki territory to kill the threat.

The loss snapped Arkansas State's 16-game winning streak. The Indians had not lost a game since September 1969.

SIU, now 4-1, shut off the Calvin Harrell-Johnny Carr rushing threat of A-State, giving Harrell only 68 yards on 16 carries and Carr 14 yards on seven carries.

As a team, the Indians were limited to 200 total yards. The Indians' record is 2-1.

Surgery Not Always Necessary
By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—I have been puzzled for the last five years as to whether the condition I have is or is not something to worry about. I am 67.
The first internist who examined me five years ago called it a "hydrocele." At that time it was the size of a marble and he told me not to worry about it.
As it got larger (size of a plum) I again went to my doctor in 1968 who suggested I see a urologist who said it was a "spermatocele" and told not to worry.
This year because the swelling got still larger I went to another internist who suggested an operation and also thought it may be herniated.
It does not hurt but I cannot understand why it was not removed when it was small. Also no doctor explained clearly what caused these. Could they be cancerous? Worrying and anxiously awaiting your viewpoints.
Dear Reader—If you had a malignancy, within five years you would have had a lot more trouble.
Such a lump can be a hydrocele, or a spermatocele with or without a hernia.
A hydrocele means a water cyst. Part of the lining around the testicle fills with fluid. In time more fluid accumulates and distends the plasticlike sack even more, causing the sack to feel tense. Some fluid-filled sacks get quite large. The sack is really in front of the testicle and you can put a flashlight against it and it will transmit light, unlike a solid tumor or a loop of intestine. If it has been there a long time this may not happen because the sack wall becomes too thick. A large sack can be drained with a needle (but the fluid usually returns) or cut out with a simple operation. This is not always done if the sack is small.
A spermatocele is similar except it is a cyst attached directly to the spermatic cord and is filled with sperm cells. It is not a cancer either.
A common hernia is a loop of intestine sliding into the scrotum along the cord. It is usually at the side or behind the testicle. These should be repaired surgically.

Going Against Percentages
By Oswald & James Jacoby
Jim: "How about a few articles to show how an expert will depart from the best percentage play because he knows something about how his opponents tend to defend?"
Oswald: "Here is a good example. South was the late Louis Watson. The year was 1933. I was North and East was one of the top players of that era. West opened the king of clubs and East produced the deuce. West studied for a moment and shifted to a spade. East ruffed and played a club. Watson ruffed, led a trump to dummy's ace and a trump back to his king. West's queen dropped and while Louis still had to lose a diamond, he scored game and rubber."
Jim: "The best percentage play would have been a finesse."
Oswald: "Louis knew his opponents' style very well. He was certain if East held four trumps to the queen he would have signaled for a club continuation. Therefore, if trumps were going to split 4-2, the queen would be in the West hand."
Jim: "I wonder if East really was a top player. It seems to me that with any four trumps he should have asked for a club continuation."

cally. That is the reason for the seeming difference in opinion. I suspect your last doctor is concerned that you may have a loop of bowel herniated into the scrotum.
The hydrocele and spermatocele often occur without any important cause or may even be birth defects. They should all be examined. Since yours hasn't caused you any trouble, I don't think you have missed much by not having an operation. If your present doctor has asked you to see a surgeon, do so and if he agrees it is a hernia, do as he suggests. Thus far it seems to me you have had good management. If you are worried about a cancer, that seems to be an unnecessary concern.

Argentine President Is Stronger

By LOUIS UCHITELLE
Associated Press Writer
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Alejandro Lanusse appears to have emerged stronger than before from the attempt Friday to overthrow his government. This makes it easier for him to fulfill his promise of general elections in 1973.

Nearly 50 army officers and retired officers were jailed on charges of leading the attempted coup or of plotting against Lanusse's seven-month-old government. All were on record in favor of continuing the authoritarian military rule Argentina has had since 1966. Lanusse has promised to turn over the government to civilian leaders elected in March 1973.

The most prominent prisoner is ex-President Roberto M. Levingston, a retired general who was the nation's chief executive until Lanusse ousted him in a palace coup last March 23.

The rebels, operating from two rural army bases, took control of radio stations in the pampa cities of Azul and Olavarría and broadcast demands for Lanusse's resignation. Behind the generalized rhetoric loomed the election issue and Lanusse's rapprochement with ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, who is still feared and hated by many top military officers.

Lanusse spent four years in jail while Peron was president, but he feels now that parliamentary government won't work without the cooperation of Peron's many followers.

The rebels had 1,200 troops and a dozen tanks, but no one joined them. By 11:30 p.m. Friday—eight hours after the revolt began—Lanusse was the winner. He angrily told a nationwide radio and television audience that the rebel leaders were "reactionaries," "totalitarians," "rightists" and "enemies of the great popular majority and of democracy."

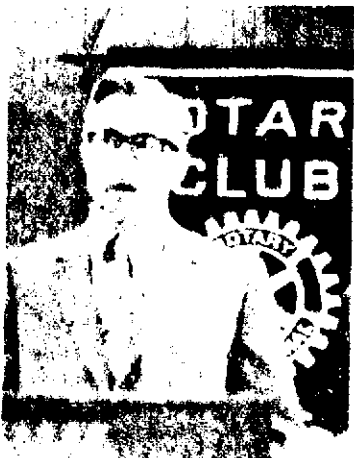

Student organizations, labor unions, political parties, businessmen's associations and even the Communist party issued public statements during the night endorsing Lanusse and urging defeat for the "fascist" rebels.

Almost 10,000 troops had surrounded Azul by dawn. The rebels surrendered without firing a shot although they did try to dynamite a bridge to slow the advance toward Azul. The only casualties were a woman bus passenger killed when the bus collided with a tank, and two enlisted men injured in the collision of two army vehicles.

Lanusse, 52, who is the army commander in chief as well as president, directed the attack against the rebels and the arrests.

Man Is Shot to Death

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Albert Reynolds, 47, of Redfield (Jefferson County) was shot to death Saturday night as he allegedly forced his way into a residence near here, authorities said. Officers said Reynolds was

REV. GORDON RENSHAW

To climax National Pharmacy Week the Hope Rotary Club heard a program on drugs at the luncheon meeting October 8 in the Town and Country. Rotarian Rufus Herndon, Jr. arranged for the county chairman of the Drug Education Program, the Rev. Gordon Renshaw, to speak.

With the help of an imitation marijuana bush and posters that declared such truths as "Benjies, Breakfast of Chumpions," "Don't Let a Pusher Push You," and "Happiness is No Dope," the speaker emphasized the importance of reaching young people regarding the effects of drugs: physical, psychological, stimulant, depressant, good and bad. To illustrate the danger in trying drugs, he showed a film, "LSD, Trip or Trap."

Vice-President Bob Roberts presided over the meeting and thanked the Rev. Renshaw for telling the club how the drug education program is being carried on in the local schools.

Trader Lane Has Done It Again

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Lane, the magician of the baseball trading block, is at it again, and it looks like he's done it again.

The 74-year-old general manager of the Milwaukee Brewers has spent his life in the sport creating trade winds. He brought to port late Sunday night a 10-player deal with the Boston Red Sox. Officials of the teams are here for The World Series.

The Brewers receive slugging first baseman George Scott, outfielders Billy Conigliaro and Joe Lahoud, pitchers Jim Lonborg and Ken Brett and catcher Don Pavletich.

The Red Sox get pitchers Marty Pattin and Lew Krausse, outfielder Tommy Harper and minor league outfielder Pat Skrabble.

"I think we came out on top in this deal," said Dick O'Connell, general manager of the Red Sox. "Of course, both teams think they get the best of any deal."

Scott and Lonborg were heroes of Boston's 1967 American League pennant drive, as Scott hit .303 and Lonborg won the Cy Young Award with a 22-9 record. But their records haven't been as good since then, and Lonborg has spent time back in the minors after a skiing accident hurt his pitching motion.

Recognition Greater for Red China

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Four more U.N. members recognize Communist China than recognize Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime, researchers reported today.

The United Nations' Dag Hammarskjöld Library, in a "reference aid" prepared in advance of the General Assembly debate next week on whether to offer the Red regime membership and expel the Nationalists, listed 60 members that recognize Peking and 56 that recognize the Taiwan government.

In the debate beginning next Monday, the 130 U.N. members must decide whether to pass an Albanian resolution which would seat Peking and oust Taiwan or a U.S. proposal to seat both Chinas in the Assembly and give Peking China's permanent seat on the Security Council.

Another U.S. resolution would make any attempt to oust Taiwan an "important question," requiring a two-thirds vote for passage rather than a simple majority.

Ten of the countries that recognize Peking have done so since last November when the Assembly voted 51-49 to seat

Hires Woman Whose Son Is Prisoner

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — When

an Arizona woman told a general the Army wasn't meeting the needs of families of men held prisoner or missing in Vietnam, he hired her as a consultant. That was six months ago.

Since then, Iris R. Powers of Phoenix has made two dozen recommendations to help Army next-of-kin with legal, medical, economic and psychological problems.

Those the Army has accepted include: family group-therapy sessions, a comprehensive guidance booklet for next-of-kin, more effective ways of returning a man's personal property to his family, and establishing a task force to prepare the families for their husbands' return, or the eventuality that they may never return.

"The crux of the problem," said Mrs. Powers, 54-year-old widow and mother of a pilot who has been missing since April 1969, "was the lack of meaningful communication between the Army and the families."

Asked why the Army saw a need for a personal consultant while the other services did not, Mrs. Powers said that most Army men held prisoner, or listed as missing, are young, single and enlisted, while most of those from the Air Force and Navy are career officers.

Reaching for a copy of her recent testimony before a congressional committee, she read: "The Army next-of-kin are mostly parents: their sons are largely non-careerists. These mothers and fathers know little about military life, about their son's service, or about the channels through which they might learn additional details about the circumstances of their son's disappearance."

Before making her recommendations, said Mrs. Powers, she consulted senior staff officers at 31 Army posts, and interviewed scores of POW and MIA families.

"Two years ago, if you'd asked me to go on an Army base unescorted, I'd have preferred to walk into a den of lions," Mrs. Powers said in a voice husky from chain-smoking cigarettes. "I knew about military life. But in the shock and wreckage aspects of my own loss, I felt I had to go to Washington to do something."

Mrs. Powers' son, Army CWO Lowell S. Powers, is one of 1,072 Americans listed by the Defense Department as captured or missing.

"We have to prepare these families for the very real possibility that their men may not return," Mrs. Powers said, adding that her "desire" was to meet them, but her own son is alive. And if and when they do return, they will not be the same from the family's perspective.

Lok and oust Taiwan. But the Assembly decided earlier in that session that any such change would require a two-thirds majority.

Not all of the 10 are certain to vote this year for the Albanian resolution or against the U.S. plan. One of them, Mauritius, is cosponsoring both U.S. proposals.

The other nine who have recognized Peking since last Nov. 20 are Cameroon, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Togo, Austria, Turkey, Kuwait, Iran and Peru. Although their links with Communist China might incline them to vote against the "important question" resolution, current indications are that some of them are likely to abstain from voting on it. One or two may even vote for it.

TIMES DO CHANGE
SYDNEY (AP) — An aborigine, David Edward Witherspoon, has been granted a liquor license at a hotel 70 miles north of Sydney.

Only a few years ago, over most of Australia, aborigines were not permitted in hotel bars and it was an offense to supply them with liquor.

To Continue Filing Charges of Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker said Sunday that he would continue to file felony charges in gambling cases.

One of the two judges to hear such cases Circuit Judge William J. Kirby said Friday that he always had either reduced felony gambling charges to misdemeanors or dismissed them.

When nine employees of the Royal American shows appeared before Kirby Friday he gave them suspended sentences on the misdemeanor charges of having a gaming device and dismissed the felony charges of keeping a gaming house.

Tucker said Sunday night he opposed gambling because it breeds corruption in law enforcement officers and public officials.

Under the court system now in operation Kirby receives the misdemeanor cases and Circuit Court Judge Richard Adkisson the felony charges.

However, to avoid splitting the charges against the nine carnival employees in two courts, they were assigned Kirby's court.

Tucker said that six persons had come before Adkisson's court and they had been convicted without a reduction in their charges.
